Job Placement Agencies in an Agent-based Model of the Local Labor Market with the Long-term Unemployed and on-the-job Flows by Marcin Wozniak

The paper Job Placement Agencies in an Agent-based Model of the Local Labor Market with the Long-term Unemployed and on-the-job Flows is not strongly connected to main area of my research. Nevertheless, I decided to include my conclusions because of the cognitive value of the text.

Strengths:
✓ Providing wide knowledge of the topic and reliable justifications for submitted applications.
✓ Strong applicative aspects of the paper.
✓ Citing the recent studies in the area of research and showing different sides of analyzed research problem.
✓ Usage of different statistical techniques. This action makes the paper more intersubjectively comprehensible.
✓ Presentation of the development of scientific thought focused around the undertaken research problem.
✓ Critical comments on the research of other authors mentioned in review section.
✓ Clear structure of the document.
✓ Comprehensive overview of the graphics used in text.

Notes thoughts:
✓ It is worth to show wider context of the consequences of the situation on labor market such as economic crisis, instability of employment, job insecurity or precariat.
✓ Poznan agglomeration is the biggest urban area in Wielkopolska. It would be better not to compare it to another cities in voivodship.
✓ Consider use of impersonal form in phrases in the whole document.
